UK-expat tax advice and wealth management specialist Blevins Franks has acquired Saunderson House sister-company Siddalls France for an undisclosed sum.

Bordeaux-based advisory Siddalls services a client base of UK national resident in France and was previously owned by Saunderson House parent company IFG, which has said it intends to focus on core business.

‘This is excellent news for both Blevins Franks and Siddalls but most importantly for clients,’ said Blevin Franks’ chief executive John Simmonds.

‘Siddalls naturally complements our strong position in France and will undoubtedly accelerate our growth plans in that country, for the benefit of our clients and the group as a whole.

‘Siddalls is now part of a group which is committed to the long term delivery of expert tax and wealth management advice and service to UK nationals living in France.’

The acquisition takes Blevin Frank's assets under management to £1.72 billion. The company operates cross-border planning and investment for UK nationals from offices France, Spain, Portugal, Cyprus and Malta as well as the UK.
